ISSA Education Foundation Announces Information Security Scholarship Awards

Scholarships Awarded

September 30, 2013 – Steve Haydostian, President of the Board of Directors of the ISSA Education Foundation, the 501(c)(3) public charity affiliate of the Information Systems Security Association (ISSA), announced today that the Foundation is awarding two academic scholarships this year. Mr. Haydostian, in making the announcement, noted that this year ISSA will help two individuals to attain their educational goals within the Information Security field, and anticipates increasing the number of scholarships awarded in coming years.

A significant number of applications were received from around the world. The Foundation's Scholarship Committee consisting of Stephen Maiorca, Javier Torner, Lorraine Frost, Dmitry Zdanov and Dr. Dan Manson, Foundation Board Director, evaluated each of the applications against the published criteria. Upon the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee, the Foundation Board is pleased to award scholarships to the following applicants:

E. Eugene Schultz, Jr., Memorial Scholarship: Kimberly Zeitz, Virginia Tech University

Undergraduate Study Scholarship: Sarah Costa, Cal Poly Pomona University

Mr. Haydostian said, "It is an honor to award these scholarships to two well qualified candidates to inspire them to be leaders and contributors for the advancement of the information security profession in the future."

The ISSA Education Foundation offers scholarships to support both undergraduate and graduate level studies of individuals pursuing approved studies in the field of Information Security. The Foundation also provides grants to professionals wishing to expand their knowledge and skills in the information security field.
